

UNCLE SAM'S GIANT WATCHDOG HURLS 16-INCH SHELL 21 MILES

This giant "barker" is the 16-inch coast defense gun which guards the entrance to the harbor of New York at Sandy Hook. This monster hurls a shell, weighing slightly over a ton, twenty-one miles, and it is effective at that range. Each shot costs $2,500. Once each year they take the wadding off the gun and test it.

Charles E. Hughes

As the Files of the New York World Estimate Him.

(SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The Republican Publicity Association, through its president, the Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., today gave out the following statement at its Washington headquarters:

"Probably the most ardent supporter of Woodrow Wilson and the most bitter opponent of Hughes is the New York World, the leader of the Democratic press. In view of its present criticism of Mr. Hughes, for purely partisan reasons, every American voter, of whatever party, should read that paper's estimate of Hughes and his work of the past. The following are excerpts from the columns of that paper during the period of its ownership and control by the late Mr. Pulitzer, who requested in his will that Mr. Hughes serve as a trustee of his estate, a position which Mr. Hughes declined:

Quotations from New York World.
"September 18, 1905—'Hughes's admirable work. His admirable work as counsel for the gas investigating committee justified the people in accepting from him equally meritorious service as counsel for the insurance investigating committee. The public has not been disappointed in Mr. Hughes. He has justified every expectation. The World doubts if any legislative investigation in the history of the state was ever conducted with more ability or more acutely or more rationally. It is evident that Mr. Hughes is going to the very bottom of insurance corruption, and that when he has finished, the policy holders and the people will know for the first time how these great corporations are managed.'"

"October 7, 1905—'The Republican Ticket.—The Republican ticket is one to appeal to the intelligence rather than to the emotions. * * * His conduct of the gas investigation last spring, was admirable. * * * Mr. Hughes's conduct of the legislative investigation of insurance corruption is part of the history of the expect nothing from him. No individual, he declares, or group of individuals, and no private interest will be permitted to dictate my policy. I shall decide and act according to my conscience and as I believe the public interest requires. * * * Mr. Hughes's strength is in the appeal he makes to the intelligence and common sense of independent voters. For this appeal he is well equipped by his character, his training, and his record. * * * The World shares in his faith in appealing to the common sense of the American people, which has never failed to express itself decisively in a great crisis."

"October 6, 1905—'Mr. Hughes's positive methods as a reformer are known to all men. He dealt with insurance corruption and high-finance crookedness as relentlessly as he now unflinchingly seeks demagogism. His record is to be read in the statutes passed at Albany.'"

"October 8, 1906—'Mr. Hughes on the stump.—He has appealed not as a partisan to partisans but as a citizen to citizens. The addresses of the scholarly lawyer have been simple and straightforward, strong in sincerity, effective in earnestness.'"

"October 11, 1906—'Mr. Hughes said in his Buffalo speech, October 10, 1906, he would endeavor to have more money appropriated to enforce labor laws. * * * The laws should be enforced cost what enforcement may. Mr. Hughes promises nothing that he cannot and will not perform.'"

"October 12, 1906—'When Mr. Hughes promises to give the people of New York a clean, honest administration, free from boss rule and corruption influence, they can accept his word. * * * His record is that of a man who keeps his word faithfully and scrupulously. When has he ever broken a public promise or repudiated a public pledge?'"

"October 12, 1906—'Roosevelt for Hughes.—No one who knows how strong the president's (Roosevelt's) great fight against corporate abuse has made him with his countrymen, can doubt that his manly declaration will be to Mr. Hughes also as a tower of strength.'"

"June 30, 1907—'Governor Hughes has rendered a highly meritorious service not only to New York but to

It is better to know the saddest truth than to be blinded by the merriest lie.

Show me a man who is never criticized and I'll show a negative personality; show me a social institution which is never criticized and I'll show you an institution which has no right to exist.

The nation is only powerful; the state is only strong; the city is only prosperous; the individual is only happy when the home is preserved in its integrity and purity.

The test of a nation's civilization is the manner in which it cares for its weaker members.

If you expect the world to be bettered by kindness, start by uncorking yours.

The best you can protect your home is to protect the homes of others.

VICTORY SURE FOR ROBINSON

Democratic Speakers Fail to Stir Up Strife in Republican Ranks.

(SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM.)
CHARLESTON, Oct. 2.—Unless all signs fail Judge Ira E. Robinson, formerly of the supreme court of appeals, will be elected governor on November 7 by a larger majority than any candidate was ever given in West Virginia, according to the Republican campaign managers. The efforts of Democratic speakers and newspapers to arouse passionate prejudices and stir up strife in the ranks of the Republicans have been wholly unavailing, say the leaders of Judge Robinson's fight. There never was a time, they say, when there was greater party unity or more enthusiasm for party principles.

Within the last week Judge Robinson has campaigned in Jackson, Mason, Roane, Calhoun, Gilmer, Lewis, Kanawha and Braxton counties and spoke to large audiences in St. Charles, Ripley, Arnoldsburg, Glenville, Charleston, Sutton, Gassaway and Point Pleasant. Everywhere he was warmly greeted and assured by party leaders that he would get all the Republican vote.

"Vigilance is all that is needed," he says, "to bring about a much larger Republican majority than usual in West Virginia."

Ex-Governor A. B. White, of Parkersburg said: "I know of no dissatisfaction in the party and can see no reason why we should not win. In Wood county the state and national tickets will get the usual majority."

Bert Buster, of Charleston, ex-secretary of the Progressive state committee, is now vigorously supporting Judge Robinson. "I was for General Lilly in the primary," he said, "but I want to say that Judge Robinson will have no warmer supporter in West Virginia than myself."

This week the judges will visit Jefferson, Berkeley, Mineral and possibly other counties in the eastern panhandle section.

ment in this state. The World is glad to find that he has not faltered."

"June 25, 1910—'Governor Hughes did not object to the federal income tax in principle, but to the phrasing of the amendment.'"

MRS. MAY'S LETTER TO WOMEN

More Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieves Suffering.

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a bad case of female ills. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and I took about six bottles. It fixed me up all right. The common symptoms of such a condition—pain when walking, irritation, bearing down pains and backache, nervousness and disordered digestion—soon passed away. I look much better now than I did before, and I recommend the Compound every time for female troubles, as it did for me all it is claimed to do. You have my permission to publish this letter." Mrs. J. MAY, 3548 S. Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill.

If you have any of the symptoms mentioned in Mrs. May's letter, remember what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for her, and try it yourself. It is a good old-fashioned medicine, made from roots and herbs, and it has helped countless numbers of women.

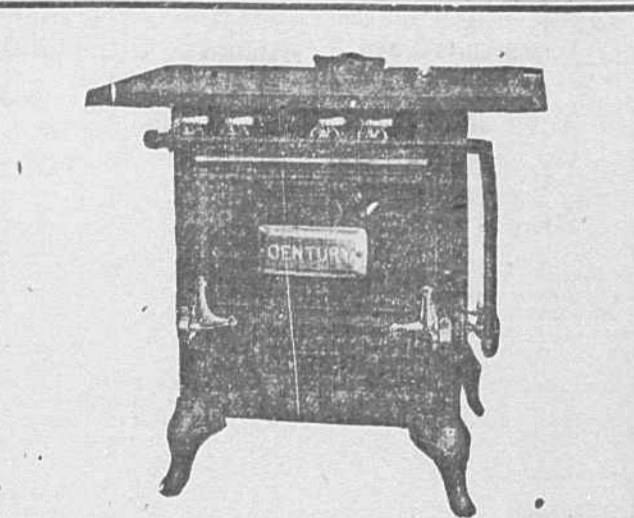

If you need special advice, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

THE MIGHTY SHIELD & BUCKLER

In mediaeval days when armed foes met in belligerent strife, victory was the reward of the best equipped, accoutred and PROTECTED. PROTECTION against the slings, arrows and javelins of the enemy was the deciding element between victory and defeat. The chief element that decides between good and bad health, is PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE. We are all prone to be more or less lacking in the care of our health, and all too often overlook the bounds of resistance against disease, and find ourselves suddenly "checked up" and facing a "spell of sickness" that proper precautions might have entirely prevented. WHAT IS PREPAREDNESS? It is S. S. S., THE GREAT NATIONAL BLOOD PURIFIER, that builds the new tissue, purifies and revitalizes the blood. If you are afflicted with the S. S. S. armor—the mighty shield and buckler—against disease. Write at once for free books on BLOOD AND SKIN DISEASES or write to our MEDICAL ADVISORY DEPARTMENT for free advice.
